

Capabilities Statement

ELICERE was established in the Spring of 2006 with a vision built on core principles that are essential for any successful business: Establish trust, build relationships, understand our customer's needs, employ good business practices, and deliver a quality product solution. Our company name is derived from the Latin word meaning "to elicit." It is our mission to elicit your needs and requirements in a proactive manner so that each customized application we build and maintain for you addresses all of your needs and concerns.
